

Permissions - Access to publish public keys (permalinks)

There is a new option in Eainfoport to set "Access to publish public keys" for users.

After installing version 8.7.0, users who create permalinks must set the permissions otherwise they will lose this option.

Setting option:

- 1) Portal Management > Users management > Repositories > select the required permissions
- 2) Click on Repository Model > Repository Management > Users Management > Permissions

The screenshot displays the Eainfoport user management interface. The top navigation bar includes 'Portal Management' and 'admin@EainfoportT3.cz (admin)'. The main heading is 'User: List of repositories and permissions' for 'Test Testovic327 (ttestovic327)'. A green banner indicates 'Successfully removed'. Below is a table with columns for various permissions, with 'Access to publish public keys' highlighted by a red box. The table shows one entry for 'Example' with all permissions set to 'NO FILTER'. A 'BACK' button is at the bottom left. The bottom section shows the 'Repository Browser' on the left and a 'Testing' document view on the right, with a red box highlighting a specific icon in the right-hand toolbar.

Repository name	Repository notes	Repository administrator	Access to publication	Access to repository tree	Editor Glossary	Access to views	Access to publish public keys
